

Sing:

Are you lost?
Do you know what's best for us?
I'm trying to survive, I'm trying to move on
But I don't think that's what meant for me

You were my angel of light
Why did you leave come night?
You were my angel tonight
Why couldn't you stay for light?

Rap:

Why did everything fail when he came into your life?
You can try to blame everything else, but that's when I stopped calling you wife
Why did I give you that kind of permission,
Didn't it seem to take away from the fact that we said "forever" in repetition?

[1.&.] How am I supposed to move on?
[1.&.] What does life mean now that you're gone?
How am I to focus on the world that meant nothing to me
All that mattered was that it gave life to you and so made me happy

[1.] I can't let this hurt me no more
[1.] The fact is that I've been hurt worse before
[1.] But not after something so perfect, couldn't be touched
[1.] I loved you so fucking much
[3 - a - let]

[1...2...] I'm so sick of crying
[1...2...] It's not like I'm dying
Been there before, of feeling no more
I'm not there, I won't be there, so don't think you put me there

I want me to be happy and focus on the better days
Everything about us that made great just has to be thrown away
I can't wish for something that's all in the past
God my head's hurting I think I might need a cast

[1.&.2.] Do you think you love me?
[1.&.2.] Would you still fight for me?
I know that I would, no matter the price
Maybe that's the problem, cause that doesn't seem right

You're never going escape my memory of what a perfect angel should be
Everyone else after you has an impossible task to complete
The "flaws" that I said were just me being angry
That the only path left for us was concluding our story

Sing:

I still love you (would go through the bad again)
I still love you (yes the fights and scary plans)
I still love you (will it ever fade away)
Our story had a happy beginning (I never thought one day that it'd end)

I still love you (you were my everything that mattered)
I still love you (what did I do to deserve this disaster)
I still love you (through the thick of it all)
I would have suffered through it all again if I could just be with you
