

Verse 1:

Going in hard
Don't give two shits who you are Hit you so hard you'll be scarred
My emotions got me lit up like a star

She making feel like I wanna die
Hating her for doing this just to make me cry
I don't need her in my life
Paining me with all of this strife

Do you see all this agony keeping me from being happy Feeling this, who the fuck was she to come in and take away my "should be"

The happiness she promised, seems now in spite do you see how she broke me, wasn't ever right
You can tell me, am I burnin' up tonight?

Chorus:

Burnin' up tonight! [x8]

Verse 2:

Feeling so hurt
This is not what I deserve
From this, I might lose my nerve
Fuck my life she was the worst

What she did can't be explained
Why did I go through that pain
But I hope that she holds the blame
And never tries to be the same

I am feeling all alone
Wishing that I had a home
Old friends tell me, "Should've known"
Despite all the love I have shown

All the fucking demons that are living in my head
Tellin me, that it's my fault, wishing I were dead
Can you shut up about our lives as just friends?
What I really want is all this chaos to end

Pre-Chorus 2:

You can't help me
I am lonely
True love is for the others only

Is this insane?
You can't contain me!

Chorus:

Burnin' up tonight! [x8]

Bridge B:

Falling down a place I never knew existed
Lifted downwards
Needlessly screaming through these stitched lips
Subversion of my fantasies
The inverse of heavenly
Steadily reveling in perpetuated emptiness
I'm peddling, fuck!
I'm waking next to you screaming
Not sure if you leaving or breathing is sitting here dreaming, so

Maybe the sight of you
Gasping and thrashing will smack me back from this bad dream
A rapstream of consciousness
Blocking my last need
The flask sings of sirens
Selling songs of some bad things
I'm cracking, my brain will get to snapping

So here we are
As broken as your childhood home
Is it being with you or not that makes me feel more alone
Like maybe this is how it feels
To live, to walk, to roam, or
This is just the hole that you need to grow

Chorus:

Burnin' up tonight! [x8]
